

Private Messaging

Private messaging is a feature on many platforms allowing users to send direct messages to each other privately, as opposed to public posts or comments visible to everyone. It's a way to have 1-on-1 or small group conversations in a more confidential setting. Through private messaging, users can communicate directly, share sensitive information and/or discuss topics not meant for public viewing. You can only send private messages to your connections.

To send a private message, click on the “Send Message” button, as shown here.

Note: You can only see the “Send Message” button for your connections.

On your connection's profile page, click the "..." button and click "Send Message" to send a private message to your connections.
